The whigs have done better in Belize, Louisiana, at the late Presidential election than in any other place that we have seen. They have exactly doubled their vote since 1848. In that year they polled one vote for Gen. Taylor, but this year they have increased it to ten.

SARDINES.—All the bays of California, and probably all on the Pacific coast, swarm with the delicate little fish called the Sardine. The olive tree, also, there, yields plentifully the fruit of which the oil is made, essential to their preparation. In time we will not have to leave our continent for an supply of Sardines.

FIREMEN'S AND CITIZENS' BALL.—It will be seen from an advertisement in another column, that the Relief Fire Company, No. 3—the "Lively 3," give a ball at the Old Fellows' Hall, on the evening of the 24th of December. The names of the managers will be found in the advertisement.

Mr. Murdoch has been engaged at the theatre. Mr. Sinclair concluded her engagement on Saturday night with a benefit.

Dr. Richardson has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment at New Orleans on a charge of embezzlement.

Not Quite his Drunkards.—Some months since, near Stanton, Va., a young gentleman and lady were on their way to a clergyman's to have the marriage rites celebrated, when five villains, employed on the railroad improvement, seized them, drove the young man off, and then perpetrated an infamous outrage upon the poor girl. The young man made no resistance to the fiendish attack upon his intended, from the fact that the numbers against him would render resistance useless. He has since united his destiny with hers, and they now live together as man and wife. Last week the trial of the principal culprit was gone through, resulting in sending him to the State prison for forty years. The other four will have their turn.

New York City, Nov. 15, '92.

Dear Democrat:

When I last wrote you I was at Columbus, Ohio, in the midst of the Buckeye Democracy, who were features as rotund as the Whig office seekers' faces were elongated. But what of that—turn about is fair play, etc. It is true the game they tried to play was something after the fashion of the clown in the circus—"heads I win, tails you lose"—but they threw up a bad penny, and was "tails" on both sides, and they lost all, somehow or other when the result was ascertained. Some undertook to account for the loss one way—some another—but all agreed among themselves that it was a great mistake. The more philosophical are consoled with the idea that accidents will occur in the best regulated families.

The New York Democracy are even more elated with the recent success than the Louisville Democracy—cannot make up their minds to let the whigs go by without a jolt, and they are "tails" on both sides, and they lost all, somehow or other when the result was ascertained. Some undertook to account for the loss one way—some another—but all agreed among themselves that it was a great mistake. The more philosophical are consoled with the idea that accidents will occur in the best regulated families.

Who would see the world in miniature—or all the world in one city must go to New York. It is the great head quarters of trade, of business, mechanism and invention. Everything moves by steam here—nothing but what is pushed by the great competition among the people—every thought, bodiless creation of the brain, receives form and shape here, and is sent as a winged messenger, leaving the impress of its importance upon all the lesser towns and cities throughout the land. It is the head quarters of corruption as well as commerce—from the subtle schemes of brokers and stock-jobbers down to the mock-auctioneer the game is, can we not track the world out of a fortune, and play the devil on our own account on other people's money.

The newsmen have a glorious time of it—selling passage tickets for the head waters of Salt River—they have also a ticket to Cuba, and from present indications the craft for that port will be as well filled, as the one that will push its way up the rugged waters of the "roaring river" wild.

To-morrow the funeral procession of Daniel Webster takes place here—the order of procession is published in the papers, and the programme above occupies more than a column in the New York Herald. The great Daniel, who like the Daniel spoken of in the scriptures, was a prince among the people, and it is to his memory that this testimonial of respect is given.

Would you believe it—the city is full of strangers, water time as it is, and the traveler has some trouble in finding comfortable quarters at the principal hotels.

Miss Julia Dean, the tragedy queen of the stage, and the favorite scribe of Louisville and New York, has just finished a most successful engagement at the Broadway theatre.

I fear you are already weary with this poor letter—but, just arrived, I can give you nothing better. With the promise of something more readable in future,

I am yours, BY JINGO.

(For the Louisville Daily Democrat.)

Sam Swing, of the Eighth Ward.

One of the best jokes that has yet come off the way of electing, was performed by our fellow-citizen, Sam Swing, Esq., of the Eighth Ward Pierce Club.

On the evening before the Presidential election, Mr. Swing heard of a contemplated wig meeting at the house of Mr. Oakley, a free gentleman of color, at which several distinguished lawyers were to address the people.

On further enquiry he learned that it was a sort of ball, where some young men and women had been invited; and fearing some trick, Sam went to the place. And sure enough, he found Mr. B. Musselman, Mr. Thurston, Chas. C. Taylor, Esq., Ed. Craig, Esq., and others.

Mr. G. M. Thurston left off with an eloquent appeal to the crowd to go with him for Scott and Graham. When he closed, Sam Swing went loudly called for a speech. Though not much in the habit of public speaking, he could not refuse to address the boys. He took the floor and utterly annihilated Mr. Thurston's speech. So that when he came to his concluding appeal—in which he said to the boys that they must stand to their own principles, and not be pulled, and especially, not to be misled by his friend Mr. Thurston, who was so slippery that they must watch him and go early to the polls and cast their votes, as all good boys should, for the Democratic candidates. And on the 4th day of next March, you shall hear the canon roar louder than seven thunders, for

Pierce and King, and Sam Swing.

The house roared with deafening applause, and loud cheers, for Sam Swing and Pierce and King.

Brewer's Glance at the World.

This splendid panorama, which will open at Market Hall to-night, is well worthy the attention of our citizens. Of its artistic excellence we will not speak, leaving that task to others more capable than ourselves, but merely of its excellence as a means of imparting correct and graphic ideas of the various places and things it represents. The subject chosen by Mr. Brewer, is one that affords much material for the pencil of the artist, and he has availed himself of every means within his reach to render the work interesting and valuable. The three zones—torrid, temperate, and frigid—are represented in their animal and vegetable kingdoms; races of men; costumes; habits; architecture, etc.; and the artist has not relied on cheaply bought information of the places and things delineated, but has painted many of the scenes from nature, and has bestowed both time and study to attain accuracy in all the details of his subject. This work is in every respect different from the many panoramic duels that have been exhibited in our city, and we are certain no one will come away dissatisfied after seeing this wonderful work of art.

THE JAPANESE EXPEDITION.—This expedition will sail on or about the 1st of December, under the command of Commodore M. C. Perry. The following is said to exhibit the effective force of the squadron: The Vernon, with 96 guns and 800 men; Mississippi, 376 men; Suquehanna, 380 men; Princeton, 190 men; Albatross, 190 men; Saratoga, 22 guns and 190 men; St. Mary's, 22 guns and 190 men; Vincennes, 22 guns and 190 men; Macedonian, 22 guns and 400 men; Porpoise, 10 guns and 120 men; Southampton, 4 guns; Lexington, 4 guns; and Tabbot, already sailed, 4 guns. Total, 2,065 guns, and 3,045 men. The three last named vessels are store ships.

There are to be added to the ship's company 700 marines, with the complement of the storeships, officers, scientific corps, and others attached to the expedition, will make an effective force of 4,000 men and 280 guns, mostly heavy ordnance. The steamers are each to mount a couple of Paixhan shell guns of largest calibre, and placed on revolving trucks, so as to sweep the horizon. These guns are intended to be used for the discharge of shells 90 and 120 lbs. each, and long 22 lbs. making 22 guns to each steamer. Each ship is provided with two brass 24 lb. field pieces, to be used for shells or canister shot.

Yankee coolness is proverbial. A friend of ours was recently a passenger upon a train, out of its time, and where a collision was feared. Said a timid man to him, "What if we should bump the up train?" "Let her bump then," was the reply. "I've got a through ticket, haven't you?"

RAILROADS IN RUSSIA.—The great railroad between St. Petersburg and Moscow, in Russia, which is 400 miles long, has been completed. It was built by American engineers. There have been three distinct classes of cars in Russia, to accommodate as many different classes of the population. In the first class of cars, the price of a ticket, for 400 miles, is $15, and for the second, $10, and for the third, $5. The grandest ride in the first class, is the ride in the first class, and the passengers in the third class. There is some difference between the state of society in Russia and America, where our republican ideas would be apt to take umbrage at such distinctions in our traveling conveyances. Being all sovereigns, we find no difficulty in riding in the same cars—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A FULL VOTE IN A WHIG VICTORY.—This has been the standing exclamation of the whigs in reference to election returns for some time. They have accounted for all their defeats, at the State elections, by the plea of a "full vote," and have again and again said that a "full vote" was the only way to a Whig victory. Presidential result has shown this assertion, like most others from the same source, to be utterly unfounded; for the official returns, so far as they have been received, exhibit an unpropitious large vote for the Democrats, and a correspondingly large vote for the Whigs.

ONE OF THE WITNESSES.—A queer exclamation was made a few days ago by an old lady. The good woman was subpoenaed to appear as a witness on a rather delicate case. She did not come, and a bench warrant was issued for her appearance, on which she was brought into court. The presiding judge thought it was his duty to remind her: "Obedience, why were you not here before?" "I couldn't come, sir," "Were you not subpoenaed, madam?" "Yes, sir, but I was sick," "What was the matter, madam?" "I had an awful bile, sir," "Upon your honor, madam?" "No, sir; upon my oath."

KANSAS TERRITORY.—The St. Louis Evening News confidently expects to see this new territory organized during the coming session of Congress. It will probably extend north to the Great Platte, south to the Arkansas, and west to the main ridge of the Rocky Mountains.

"This will be one of the preliminary steps toward the construction of a grand line of telegraph and railway to the Pacific. The valley of the Kansas river is very beautiful and fertile, and for several hundred miles west of the border well timbered. It is boundlessly supplied with springs, and covered with an exuberant growth of grapes. Such a territory now occupied solely by a few wandering savages, when organized by act of Congress with inducements to migration, would afford a belt of civilized population in the direction where it will be most needed in facilitating the connection of the Mississippi Valley with the Pacific."

A CAT NURSING THREE KITTENS AND TWO KITTENS.—There is now exhibiting at Wolverhampton (says a correspondent of Kidd's Own Journal), a curious settee, namely, a cat and three kittens. They are all "sweetly affectionate." The cat, a fine animal, was in the stables of the Sheriff, and Birmingham Railway Station, Stafford-road, when in May last, she gave birth to five kittens. Three of these were drowned. The disconsolate mother, finding her family reduced, discovered a rat's nest, killed the parent and five of their young ones, appropriating to herself the three that were left—These she conveyed to her own bed, suckled them, and brought them up. All this "curious lot" is now to be seen in one cage, "happy and glibious." The cat, let me add, has three litters.
